Charles E. Lyman, a tramp, sneaked into Daniel Engel's cooper shop, at Reading, Pa., and while smoking set the place on fire. The building was consumed, and Lyman and a horse were burned to death.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Orinoco river has been declared open to free navigation.

The State Department is informed that the Venezuelan Government has refused to recognize foreign silver coin except as merchandise.

According to General Sheridan's report, made public yesterday, there are 2,102 officers and 23,946 enlisted men in the army. Regarding Geronimo's surrender to General Miles he says: "The surrender was under circumstances and conditions that should not in my judgment prevent their being turned over to the civil authorities for punishment as was intended by the President."

It has been found that some of the new silver certificates were issued before they were perfectly dry, and as a result, became somewhat blurred. These notes were designed, prepared, and issued with phenomenal rapidity, and the only injurious result was attributable to this issue of imperfectly dried notes. To correct this a more perfect drying system is now being used. The Treasury officials are satisfied that the notes are the best executed ever issued by the Government, and that the paper and ink are both very good. The design for the back of the new silver certificates of the five-dollar denomination has just been adopted. It will be printed in a light shade of green, and will represent five standard silver-dollar coins grouped so as to overlap each other across the back of the note. One object of the novelty is to secure a lighter back that will permit the delicately executed face of the note to show to better advantage. A proof of the new two-dollar certificate was placed on exhibition in the Treasurer's office yesterday, and this note will be ready for issue soon after the middle of the month. It bears the portrait of General Hancock in military uniform.

Trying to Lynch a Murderer.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 13.—An immense audience assembled at Metropolitan hall last night to express their indignation over the murder of little Mamie Kelly, who was shot down in such a cowardly way by Alexander Goldenson, with whom she was in love, on Wednesday last. Several fiery speeches were made, and when the meeting adjourned the excited crowd left the building and proceeded to the county jail, where the prisoner is confined, with the evident intention of taking him out and lynching him. While passing through the streets the crowd was greatly increased in size, and by the time its destination was reached numbered 10,000. Several attempts were made to storm the jail, but it was guarded so strongly that the police were enabled to repel the mob at each attack. At 1 o'clock the excitement had somewhat abated, and no trouble was anticipated.

Foreign Cheap Labor.

STAMFORD, CONN., November 13.—A demonstration which caused much alarm in this town was made to-day by a large number of Italian laborers working in sewers, who have not been paid by the sub-contractor in four weeks. Sewer-pipes and tool-boxes were smashed and threats made to destroy other property. They were finally assured by Warden that they would be paid Monday. It appears that the sub-contractor was losing money, and left town. Dynamite cartridges were found with some of the laborers.

Killed at Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The steamer Yeomasse, of the Charleston line, came into port this morning with its chief officer, George W. Mills, dead on board. He was killed yesterday at sea by a very peculiar accident. Standing in the pilot-house directing the course of the vessel, he put his head out of the window to give an order to the crew on deck, when the swinging jib-sail block struck him and dashed out his brains. He dropped dead on the spot where he stood. Chief Officer Mills was forty-four years old, and had been on in the company's employ.

End of the Great Strike at Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 13.—A large meeting of the stock-yard strikers was held this evening in Germania Hall, when an order was read from Grand Master Workman Powderly, declaring the strike off, and advising the men to go back to work on Monday. Mr. Powderly stated that he considered the strike for eight hours impracticable at the present time. The meeting received the order with many expressions of dissent, but the discipline of the Knights of Labor prevailed, and it was resolved to obey the mandates of the Master Workman. Thus the great strike is ended.

A Village in Danger.

BRATTLEBORO, VT., November 13.—A destructive fire is raging in the village of Townsend. The postoffice and two stores have been burned, and a number of other buildings are threatened. There is no fire engine in the town, and none can reach it from here on account of a freight wreck. If the fire crosses the street the whole village will be in danger. A snow storm prevails.

A Western Murder.

DENVER, COL., November 13.—Information of a double murder and suicide near Washakie Needle, Northern Wyoming, has just been received here. Louis Cornwall, in vain attempt to produce a perpetual motion machine, became insane and stabbed his wife and daughter to death. He then went out in the yard and blew out his brains. His son, eight years old, was spared.

Seizure of Oleomargarine.

DAVENPORT, IOWA, November 13.—The first seizure of butterine and oleomargarine made here or in the State of Iowa for violation of the national law, which provides that the packages of those substances must be stamped with the name of the contents, was made yesterday. About eight hundred pounds were taken possession of.

The Fire Record.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., November 13.—At 4 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the grocery store of Barnett & Bethune. The building, owned by Davidson & Childs, was saved by the fire department, but the stock of goods was a complete wreck. They had $4,000 worth of stock, but were only insured for $2,500. The building was partially insured.

A Big Fire.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The main building of the Staten Island dyeing works at West Richmond, Staten Island was destroyed by fire early this morning. It is supposed that a kerosene lamp exploded in the watchman's room while he was making his tour through the building. Loss estimated at $80,000. The works are insured for $150,000 in about forty companies.

The Cotton Crop.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The total visible supply of cotton for the world is 2,262,742 bales, of which 1,884,842 bales are American, against 2,188,682 and 1,928,882 bales respectively last year. The receipts at all interior towns are 194,857 bales; receipts from plantations, 311,563 bales; crop in sight, 2,346,739 bales.

Arson Confessed.

OMAHA, NEB., November 13.—The confession of a man named Loeber R. Daggett, at Lincoln, that he had accidentally set the fire that burned the Barber block a week ago last night, was the first intimation as to the origin of the fire that wiped out $100,000. Daggett was brought to this city yesterday.

Gone Crooked.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., November 13.—Charles Johnson, a collector for the wholesale wire dealers, Bardenheir Brothers, is missing, and Philip Bardenheir, the head of the firm, states that they are $5,000 out of pocket. The embezzlement has been in progress several months. A warrant has been sworn out for Johnson's arrest.

Excommunicated.

MONTREAL, November 13.—The well-known French-Canadian literateur, Arthur Buies, who was some years ago deconsecrated by the French Academy, has been excommunicated, and the paper La Lanterne placed under the ban by Cardinal Taschereau.

A Blackmailer.

NEW YORK, November 13.—Andrew J. Whiteman, the private detective charged with being implicated in the blackmail scheme against Charles Casers, of Buffalo, was this afternoon found guilty, and sentence deferred.

Senator Blair in Raleigh.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 13.—Senator Blair of New Hampshire, addressed a largely attended and highly successful industrial fair of the colored people here yesterday. His large audience included people of both races. He urged the colored people to educate themselves and to acquire land. Education and land-ownership he declared to be elements of success and power.

ACCIDENTS AND INCIDENTS FROM ALL SECTIONS BY TELEGRAPH.

More Charleston Quakes—A Valuable Church Burned—A Singular Phenomenon.

A New York Blizzard.

OSWEGO, N. Y., November 13.—A blizzard struck Oswego at 9:30 o'clock last night, and it is still blowing and snowing hard. Trains are delayed and the street railroad is blocked for the first time since its operation. A fleet of ten light vessels left here for Canada about dark last night, and grave fears are felt for their safety. Up to this time but one, the Snowbird, had been heard from, and she was ashore at Charlotte. The crew were safe. The wind blew forty miles an hour on the lake, and the snow was blinding. It is feared the damage to shipping has been great.

GENEVA, N. Y., November 13.—The heaviest snowstorm every experienced this early in the season is now prevailing here. The snow is twenty inches deep on a level and in drifts from three to six feet deep. Trains on all the roads centering here are two hours late.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., November 13.—There was a heavy snow fall last night, and the snow is still falling. It is now over a foot and a half deep. The trains are more than an hour late on all the roads leading to the city.

AUBURN, November 13.—There is over a foot of snow on the ground here and it is still snowing.

From Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., November 13.—There were three shocks of earthquake felt here early this morning. The first one occurred at ten minutes to 1 o'clock. This shock was remarkable for the comparatively moderate vibrations which followed the subterranean roaring and the detonation, which was quite noisy, and awoke a great many people. This disturbance was followed at 4:15 A. M. by a second shock of about the same character of the first—both showing considerably less severity than has been observed in the usual Friday shocks of the past few weeks.

Previous to last night's shocks there was a tolerably heavy rainfall here, the first which we have had for nearly three months; not enough fell however to avert the possibility of a water famine, which seriously threatens unless there is more rain soon.

A Strange Phenomenon.

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 13.—A remarkable phenomenon is reported from the town of Laurens. The residence of A. W. Anderson, a substantial wooden structure, has been shaking and trembling every day from 3 to 6 P. M. since Sunday last—the day of the last general earthquake shock. The mysterious motion is precisely similar to that of a genuine earthquake. Doors and windows were shaken, and crockery and glassware rattled in a lively manner.

The house is daily visited by hundreds of people, who testify to the truth of the story—one visitor, the Rev. John D. Pitts, a prominent clergyman, remained in the house two hours, during which time he says he counted seventy-five distinct shocks—some of them being as strong as any he has felt since August 31. Several houses are situated within twenty-five yards of Mr. Anderson's, but in none of these has this strong phenomenon manifested itself.

A Barefaced Story.

VIRIDEN, ILL., November 13.—Joseph Highland, a farm hand, yesterday entered a bear-pen containing two large bears owned by L. H. Thompson, a rich farmer of Highland, and was about to clean the pen when the animals attacked him, and lacerated him so badly that he died last night. He had been engaged in butchering, and it is supposed that the scent of blood on his clothing made the beasts ferocious.

A Slight Error.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 13.—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes protests against the newspapers making him say in his Harvard celebration poem that Emerson came from the "dirtiest sectarian circle of his time." What Dr. Holmes actually said was: "The daintiest sectarian circle."

Burned to Death in his Boarding-House.

CHICAGO, November 13.—A Times special from Waco, Tex., says: G. Carbone-ro's restaurant and three other buildings burned yesterday morning. The loss is $20,000, with $150,000 insurance. John O'Brien, who boarded at the restaurant, lost his life in the burning building.

The Frankford Troubles.

PHILADELPHIA, November 13.—A general uneasy feeling and dissatisfaction still exists among the Frankford textile workers. The talk of withdrawing from the Knights of Labor and forming an independent organization still continues, but no active steps are being taken.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

A Suspicious Murder.

CLEVELAND, O., November 13.—Mrs. Benjamin S. Wheeler, of 46 Eagle street, was choked to death last night by one of two men who entered the house for the purpose of robbery. One Mr. Wheeler, the husband of the murdered woman, was also assaulted, and received a bad cut upon the head. Pat Graves, a private watchman, was this morning arrested, charged with the crime. Wheeler identified him as the man who made the assault.

There are several curious circumstances in connection with the case. One is, that the old gentleman, after being assaulted, crawled into bed and went to sleep, not knowing, as he claims, that his wife had been murdered. It is also stated by friends of the couple, that they had not lived happily together for some years. Wheeler has also been arrested. They were quite wealthy.

Catholic Church Burned.

PITTSBURGH, November 13.—Shortly after midnight last night fire broke out in St. Peter's Roman Catholic pro-Cathedral in Allegheny city. The fire had gained such headway when the firemen appeared on the scene that all efforts to extinguish it proved futile. The entire edifice was totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at one hundred thousand dollars, which is fully covered by insurance. It is said the fire originated from the natural gas register.

Cannot Agree.

NORFOLK, VA., November 13.—In the case of John B. Whitehead, president of the broken Exchange National Bank, for misapplying funds with intent to defraud, was given to the jury this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was later communicated to the court that the jury could not agree. They were locked up until Monday.

Mrs. Stewart's Will.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The will of the late Cornelia M. Stewart, was admitted to probate this morning in the Surrogate's office. Mr. Henry Hilton and Mr. Charles J. Clinch, qualified as executors by taking the usual oath, and letters testamentary were issued to them.

Fatal Explosion.

SHEFFIELD, PA., November 13.—The boiler in Mapes' mill exploded with terrific force last night, blowing the mill to atoms and instantly killing Milton Mapes, the owner of the mill, and his son, a boy 12 years old—who was torn to fragments. Robert Monross, Link Comstock, and Harry Knowles, employees, were seriously, if not fatally injured.

The Dominion Deficit.

OTTAWA, ONT., November 13.—The annual financial statement of the Dominion Government shows a deficit of $5,865,554, which is attributed by the ministry to war claims growing out of the recent rebellion.

A Bleat From Lamb.

NORFOLK, VA., November 13.—Colonel William Lamb was seen to-night by a United Press reporter in regard to the alleged trouble between Congressman Wise and himself. He said he knew nothing of any trouble whatever between them.

More Men at Work.

CHICAGO, ILL., November 13.—There is no change in the status of affairs at the stock-yards this morning except that many more new men are at work.

More Trouble Ahead.

LONDON, November 13.—The London Socialists have announced their intention to hold a monster demonstration in Trafalgar Square on November 21.

Cattle Disease.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 13.—The State Board of Health received a dispatch yesterday announcing that pleuropneumonia had made its appearance among cattle at Boswell, Benton county.

Express Messenger Accidentally Shot.

TEXARKANA, TEXAS, November 13.—W. W. Longstaff, a messenger of the Pacific Express Company, was accidentally shot and killed yesterday afternoon in the company's office in this place by the discharge of a pistol.

Suit for Slander.

BATAVIA, N. Y., November 13.—Mrs. Rachel Bushman was yesterday awarded $3,500 in an action for slander against Mrs. Miranda Thompson, who had accused Mrs. Bushman of stealing an armful of wood from her.

About a year ago Andrew J. Kimball, of Forsyth, Mon., sought an acquaintance with a Eastern lady with a view to marriage, and secured Miss Maggie A. Rhodes, of Huntington, Pa., as a correspondent, and letters were exchanged, as well as photographs. After a year's correspondence, and although Mr. Kimball and Miss Rhodes had never seen each other, they agreed to marry, and Kimball sent Miss Rhodes money to take her to Bismarck, Dak., where he promised to meet her. She left Huntington on the 25th of October, and on the 29th the couple were married at Miles City, Mon.

The wheat market has ruled weaker to-day but quiet, fluctuating within a very small range. Foreign markets were reported stronger, while securities were higher. The outside intelligence was not enough to affect the market much either way, and the result was a scalping deal almost wholly in the hands of local operators. At the close the market is steady. Corn was quiet and steady, fluctuating mostly in sympathy with wheat, and the close was tame.

Provisions were firmer but quiet, and very little business doing.

New York Stock Market.

REVIEW.

NEW YORK, November 13.—There has been a decidedly better tone to-day throughout the whole list, and especially so in Southern securities, which hold their advance and seem to be well purchased, and the dull tone of these stocks which usually lead the market may be attributed to the way in which speculation has drifted into them. The bank return was a very favorable one, and gives a fresh assurance that we are likely to have an easy money market hence forward during this year at all events. The feeling generally is very bullish still, and the more we see and gather from intercourse with various people, the more confirmed do we become in the belief that higher prices are to be expected. There is a considerable short interest still outstanding, and we are at a loss to discern from what quarter any disturbing element is liable to arise. The market ruled firm during the latter part of the day, and closed firm with a disposition towards being higher. Money, 6 per cent.

The Marquis of Ripon, in a speech at Paisley Friday, approved the speeches of Mr. Morley and Sir William Vernon Harcourt at the recent Leeds conference.
